

A human rights organization has released phone transcripts that show Zhou Yongkang and other officials of the Political and Legislative Affairs Committee (PLAC) of the Chinese Communist Party have participated in live organ harvesting from Falun Gong practitioners.

David Matas, an international human rights lawyer who along with David Kilgour, published an independent report on organ harvesting from Falun Gong practitioners, said: "Nobody denies anything, and everything is consistent with what we know," after he reviewed the tapes.

The Matas-Kilgour report, in 2007, estimated that between 40 to 50 thousand Falun Gong practitioners had been killed for their organs to be harvested and sold by the Chinese regime.

Phone conversation between WOIPFG investigator, as "Secretary Zhang from the Office of Luo Gan, former head of PLAC," and Li Changchun, propaganda chief of the CCP.

Investigator: Hi, is this comrade Li Changchun?

Li Changchun: Yes, it's me.

Investigator: This is Secretary Zhang from Luo Gan's office. Comrade Luo went to sleep already and he asked me to tell you a few things.

Li Changchun: Oh, ok.

Investigator: They were asking that, well, we got information that, while you and Jia Qinglin are away (from Beijing), we should use Bo Xilai's involvement in murdering and removing organs from Falun Gong practitioners to convict Bo, right at this time.

Li Changchun: You should contact Zhou Yongkang.

Investigator: Yes, while at that time...

Li Changchun: Zhou Yongkang is in charge of this specifically. He knows it. Ok. I'll have my secretary talk to you directly.
