

High Profit Comes From Gutter

Yu Tang

There are many highly profitable businesses in China. One of them is re-selling gutter oil back onto your dinner table. A Chinese university student investigated this "business" for her graduation paper. She found a multi-billion yuan business which runs very simply and easily.

People pay money to restaurants to "clean" out their oil waste from drains and gutters, and then treat the waste at home, to extract the oil. They strain the solid waste out and sell it to pig farmers, then heat the liquid and add chemicals to get rid of the bad smell, then sell the oil back to restaurants, and also to pharmaceutical factories for making lip stick ---many exported.

This kind of "business" is so widely spread in China, that according to local news reports, in Chongqing city, there are 19 tons of gutter waste retrieved everyday, while in Changsha city, there are over 10 tons of gutter waste retrieved daily!

Here are photos posted by Chinese bloggers of the process of high profit cooking oil extracted from gutter waste: (screenshots)

distribution

the first step is to find a good location for your business. This is a very important step because the location of your business can make a big difference in your success. You should look for a location that is easy to find, has good parking, and is in a busy area. You should also consider the cost of the location and the competition in the area.
